Experience the convenience of time and attendance recording!

More and more we hear from the market that the purchase of a time attendance terminal is considered expensive and not sustainable and that the installation with cabling is considered cumbersome. Yet there is still a need for a solution that allows staff to clock in and out at a specific location and - if desired - register breaks. A requirement that employees actually be on location is, of course, crucial.

Meet the convenience of EasyControl Time and Attendance Registration. With EasyControl, employees can start and stop their work time by scanning a QR code or using a button in the app. The good news? No additional hardware installation is required!

Additionally, you can deploy geofencing to verify that employees are in the right location. Want to know how you keep control of this? We would be happy to tell you more and demonstrate this using practical examples. Schedule an introductory meeting with one of our experts today!
